FIFTY-SEVENTH YEAR NO. 47

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY OCTOBER 26, 1934

PRICE, $1.50 A YEAR

NEWS LETTER FROM STATE DEPARTMENTS

COLUMBUS.—Stanley Tachant of Wayne county, president of the Ohio F. A., and Robert Bernard of New Vienna, are the official Ohio delegates attending the National Future Farmer convention and the National Vocational Agricultural Congress, at Kansas City this week, along with Bobby Jones, national president, and many others. The latter include the Monroeville livestock and New Vienna dairy cattle judging teams of three members each, and the following candidates for the American Farmer Degree: Stanley Allgier, David Swank, Thomas Gardner, Robert Bernard and John Watt, Jr.

According to announcement from adjutant general's office Governor George White has been authorized to select four candidates to take the entrance examinations for West Point Military Academy. All enlisted men of the Ohio National Guard, who are otherwise eligible as to age, physical condition, etc., may appear before a board of officers for a preliminary examination in Columbus Nov. 7, 8 and 9.

Of the twelve high school students from different Ohio cities who participated in the sixth annual national Gorge Memorial Essay contest this year, none was in the winning list. First prize was won by George A. Delhomme of Texas. Second and third prizes went to Mississippi and Kansas respectively.

The minimum wage division of the state department of industrial relations is sending notices to the federal labor compliance officials of the state, that the short hours per week authorized by the federal code shall supersede the Ohio law governing hours of labor. The latter under Ohio law permits 50 hours per week, while 40 hours is the limit under the federal law. The division is also notifying the same officials that the state minimum wage for laundry and dry cleaning workers supersedes the federal wage. The latter wage is the lower.

Director of Finance Clarence H. Burk stated this week that the state's finances are in better condition now than a year ago, and that the year will be completed in good shape notwithstanding the large amount of money that will be required to meet other demands, such as old age pensions, Muskingum Conservancy project and state institutional construction.

Secretary of State George S. Myers has added to the general election instructions to voters posted in each voting booth, references to sections of the state law relating to crimes against the elective franchise. The sections of the law enumerated refer to bribery, use of secret ballot, influencing voters, intimidating election officers, illegal voting, procedure in voting booths and tampering with ballots.

The Industrial Commission of Ohio has issued an annual statistical report for 1933, prepared by the division of safety and hygiene. This includes a statistical study of all accident and occupational disease claims filed with the commission during the year 1933 and a summary of the years 1928-33 inclusive. The report is issued with the hope that the information given will serve to arouse Ohio employers to a realization of the fact that the accident ill of Ohio industry are still enormous and in a great measure unwarranted, and that only universal effort and complete group cooperation will insure gaining of further ground against the hazards of industrial employment.

THEATRE NOTES

Friday, October 26th, marks the opening of the Regent Theatre, Springfield, of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," for a four day engagement.

The delightful story written by Alice Hegan Rice from which the picture was taken has by now become a classic in the world of literature, whose beauty lies in its very simplicity, its golden vein of philosophy, wisdom and truth that shines like a beacon light amid the trials and hardships of the Wiggs family.

Mrs. Wiggs is blessed with the Heaven-born gift of seeing the bright side of things, no matter how gloomy the outlook may be, when she is heard to remark, at one of the family's scanty meals, "Potato soup tastes just like chicken to those who have never tasted chicken," and the beauty of this is that, in its implication it is true.

Then there are the little Wiggses, the girls being Asia, Europeans, and Australia, and the boys, Billy and Jim, not to mention Cal, the away-back horse that Mrs. Wiggs rescues from starvation, all sharing a poverty to which they are so accustomed they do not even notice it.

Indeed the whole family is so busy extracting sweet morsels of happiness from life as they find it, that while unconsciously they ought to be miserable and downcast even their lot, they are nothing of the kind, and would strongly resent the suggestion.

"Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" is a delicious mixture of humor and pathos, with a story that carries universal appeal. It is easy to believe, after having seen the picture, that this is not such a bad old world after all, and that there are still some people in it who make it worth while.

Coming to the Regent Theatre Tuesday, October 30th, Helen Hayes in "What Every Woman Knows."

Born on an Indiana farm and later active in the life of many cities Dr. Covert has a national reputation as a speaker, author and church leader. Ten years ago he resigned as pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Chicago to become secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education with headquarters in Philadelphia. By special request he will discuss the current financial and social distresses of agriculture, remedies proposed for them at Washington, and his own prescription for their relief. This address has stirred deep interest in other Presbyterians and will have a special appeal in this area.

Barbers Prices Hiked Under New Deal

Xenians who have use for barber-shop service awoke Tuesday morning to find out that a new barber code under Ohio law went into effect with a boost in prices and no warning.

The Herald is informed a delegation of Gov. White appointees landed in Xenia Monday night and laid down the planks of the new law passed by a Democratic legislature. Barbers were told that violation of the code would mean fines of $500, if the violator owned property, if not his license would be revoked.

The scale of prices rose over night from ten, fifteen and twenty cent shaves to twenty-five cents. Hair cuts jumped from twenty-five in some shops to forty cents.

The Ohio Recovery Act passed at the request of Democratic leaders in support of the New Deal is the old deal of chiseling a few extra nickels and dimes out of the consumer's pocket.

FRANK GREEN TAKES BEFORE FARM BUREAU

Ferry L. Green, president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, addressing an audience of 300 farm folks at the annual Greene County Farm Bureau meeting Tuesday night in the courthouse assembly room, characterized the present agricultural problem as "not primarily an agricultural problem, but only the result of an outworn system that has come to be a part of us and our thinking."

He said citizens must face the problem of the remaking social, economic and religious systems, chiefly through tax movements, which should be directed toward forcing a more equitable distribution of wealth. Opposition to any constitutional amendment that will deprive a county of at least one member in the House of Representatives was expressed in a resolution, opposing the proposed one-house state legislature. Favored personal earned income tax with graduated rates and low exemptions, one half to go to schools and other to taxing districts. General retail sales tax with low rate for schools. Opposing bond issues and extra tax levies.

Urged revision of school procedure with state support at $27 per grade pupil and $40.50 for high school. Urged defeat on proposed constitutional amendments limiting and using gasoline tax.

Recommended driver's license law; lower license fees for small trucks for owner use in private business. Terms of public officials be four years instead of two.

Approved AAA and urged retention of processing tax; change in administration policy; greater use of farm warehousing act. Herman W. Davey was chairman of the resolutions committee.

Press Comment On Davey Moratorium

L. Davey's moratorium proposal will be read with interest. Columbus Dispatch—"Davey's proposal for wholesale repudiation of public obligations clearly indicates his unfitness for the office of governor."

Cincinnati Times-Star—"The Davey plan of repudiation would mean trouble for Ohio banks and savings institutions which, in general, have already had trouble enough."

Cincinnati Enquirer—"The state's finances would be crippled, as well as the credit of cities, by the blundering attempt to relieve the cities of their debt burden."

Washington C. H. Herald—"We can't imagine anything now that would disorganize conditions more than to adopt Mr. Davey's suggestion."

Pomeroy Tribune—"It is a vicious proposal and should be given no thought by any person who desires that credit, character and stability be foremost."

Ohio State Journal, Columbus—"It is the sort of thing which leads to eventual default on all public obligations, and to the collapse of the credit structure of the entire state."

Madison Press, London—"It is a temporary makeshift for financing the schools, an evasion of the responsibility for a constructive taxation program."

McArthur Tribune—"Because of Davey's obvious effort to evade and deceive, he will doubtless be compelled to broadcast other explanatory and apologetic versions of his vulnerable and unseemable position, on a moratorium of school and municipal bonds."

Jamestown Journal—"New versions placed on this plan by Davey in an effort to reconcile alarm and defiance to its meaning or its danger."

Berea News—"The public credit structure of Ohio's subdivisions would be completely wrecked for years to come."

Hillsboro Herald—"The worst thing about it is that it is just plain dishonest."

Cadiz Republican—"Such action would wreck the teacher retirement fund and the state compensation fund."

Concord Enterprise—"Davey is conducting his campaign on a debt repudiation platform which his colleagues on the Democratic state ticket would not allow to be inserted in the platform."

West Liberty Banner—"With other candidates on the Davey ticket stand by their party's rejection of Davey's destructive plan."

SPECIAL LEVIES TO BE VOTED UPON

In the village there will be three special tax levies to be voted upon at the coming election; in the township but one. The voter is given the opportunity of exercising a right that is properly his or hers as the case may be. No taxing body is making a levy on you but leaving the matter up to your judgment.

There are few taxing districts in Ohio that will not vote on one or more such levies. We have canvassed numerous newspapers and find notices of such elections. In some counties there will be an extra levy asked. Even large cities are doing the same thing and just so with school districts, to be more exact some 800 school districts in Ohio are asking a special levy for school purposes.

Locally voters will be interested in the levy for electric street lighting which does not mean any additional cost as the street lighting cost has been paid in this manner for many years. It must be paid this way or you will be denied the use of street lights. It should not be necessary to refer back to the days when the local authorities found it necessary to have part of the street lights turned out due to shortage in finances following bank trouble. An extra levy is asked for the water-works operation which means continuation of better fire protection and continuance of lower insurance rates.

The school levy is not an extra levy in addition to what has been raised in the past to support the schools but a renewal as has been the case for a number of years. Even though these three levies are approved by the electors the tax rate will be lower next year than in the past due to the saving under the ten mill limitation adopted last year. It is for each elector to decide for himself or herself but there are some desired public services that cannot be had unless funds are provided to pay for them.

Electors can also be assured that in case the legislature provides funds for operating these various public necessities, the levies will not be used, and they may be wiped out by legislative action.

MORATORIUM HAS PROVED DANGEROUS VENTURE

As we scan both the daily and weekly newspapers in Ohio we find but two in open support of Candidate Martin L. Davey's proposal of a moratorium on Ohio bonds. In fact his own party convention, and all Democratic leaders, are opposing the plan, or shunning the issue at this time. As one leader put it, should Davey be elected he could only recommend such a step to the legislature. The present law making body is of the same political faith as the governor yet no one has been turned down oftener than has Gov. White.

One of the evils from which we are suffering today is the Hoover moratorium in favor of foreign nations that owe this nation several billion dollars. To overcome this trouble the Roosevelt administration is using all sorts of make-shift remedies, none of which have proven of value at this time. To get Ohio involved and in a more tangled mess than we are at present it would appear on the surface that any step towards a moratorium in the state would be but inviting more trouble at a later date.

While Mr. Davey would stave off the day of payment of present debts, he is making no claims of reduction in the cost of state government; that such debts of all districts can be wiped out. Instead he suggests a bond issue of $100,000,000 for a public works program, such bonds of course would be paid by taxes on all the real estate in Ohio. On the one hand he would set aside bonded debt and on the other create still a larger debt by a bond issue. It is not likely that any citizen of this or any other state would want to invest a dollar in the proposed bonds when we are making no effort to pay as we go.

The Republican candidate for governor, Clarence J. Brown, is openly campaigning against the moratorium as suggested by his opponent. He justly points out that not only individuals but the various state funds established for pensions for school teachers and that of disabled workmen would suffer greatly. The credit of the state and all taxing districts would be ruined. It is singular that the only county in Ohio that is demanding a moratorium as suggested by Davey is Cuyahoga. Mayor Harry Davis of Cleveland tried to get the present legislature to pass a moratorium law but the plan was turned down. Cleveland and Cuyahoga county are bankrupt if all reports are true but the politicians would defer debt payment to keep on spending. Harry Davis was formerly a Republican governor of Ohio but history thus far has found no place for an account of his administration. He is now backing Davey and it is from this source that the moratorium springs—with the Cuyahoga county vote pledged to the Democratic nominee.

Democratic leaders as well as campaign speakers are not supporting the Davey moratorium proposal. This in itself should convince the average citizen, especially the property owner, that the moratorium is a vote catching scheme and the hundred million bond issue can be nothing more than placing your real estate as a guarantee of payment.

There was a time when the barbers in Ohio looked upon the NRA requirements for operation of their shops, including state and government control of prices for haircutting and shaves, but the safety razor and the old-fashioned "Waite and Butcher" proved to be strong competitors and without the legal control of the New Dealers. The NRA, a political grafting setup concocted by the White administration, is now going through the process of enforcing the Ohio code that is permitting the politicians to ram their hands down into the cash drawer of each barber shop and pull out $5 for each shop of one chair and $2.50 for each additional chair. Barbers are now whistling out of the corner of their mouths to a different tune. It is said there are 10,000 barbershops in Ohio and more than 17,000 barbers and that an administration fund ranging from $200,000 to $400,000 is to be drawn from proprietors to pay the White political appointees. Of course the barbers are to charge higher prices from customers to make up this big pot of gravy for deserving Democrats.

A few hundred thousand dollars out of the pockets of those who must now and then have a haircut or a shave is a mere trifle to the braintrusts in Washington and Columbus. The barbers are not the only ones that must contribute to the New Deal Democratic movement to bring prosperity and guarantee salaries to those who carry the party banner, either for Roosevelt or White. Here is a short list of what other lines of business have been forced to contribute to the New Deal movement, all of which comes out of the pockets of the consumers: Contractors have been assessed $2,750,000. Truck owners $1,714,168. The Graphic Arts (better known as the printing trades) $937,515,000. Plumbers $1,332,131. Wholesale food and grocery, $446,884. Retail food dealers, $687,988. Business is told to pay and collect from the consumer, and the consumer is asked to endorse the New Deal on November 6th.

The American Legion has placed a hot-potato in President Roosevelt's lap—immediate payment of the bonus and a seven point program for some other things that might be done by an administration that is anxious to do something. The administration had a representative at the annual meet in Miami this week, who urged that no action be taken on immediate payment. In as much as the Roosevelt followers boast daily as to the hundreds of millions that are being spent to bring back prosperity, and just this week announce a five billion program for this winter, we see no reason why two billion more cannot be added for the Legion. Thus far the administration has spent $900,000,000 more than the income of the government so we might just as well go to the well once or twice more and pump up the two billion for the Legion. If the Legion insists on immediate payment it will likely be due to the fact that by waiting they may be forced to accept fifty cent dollars later in printing press money. The manner in which government money is being spent justifies the War Veterans in their demands. But as we view it it is only a question as to which will sink the nation the quickest, the administration or the Legion?

Cold chills ran up and down the spine of more than one Democratic office holder when the Literary Digest poll was announced this week showing the New Deal has slipped in public favor when a similar vote of 65,000 citizens in a nation-wide test was taken last spring. The result now is 50.97 in favor of the New Deal and 49.03 against it, a net loss of 14.06. Ohio reported a loss of 19.16 percent. Even the Solid South showed big declines. In good old Democratic Georgia a candidate for governor is campaigning against the New Deal, and the New Dealers are campaigning against the governor. Maryland has a similar contest. Only three states showed increase support for the braintrust idea of government.

A newspaper friend just recently returned from Washington where he gave the New Deal the once-over. He says if you never were in bedlam get into the circle of New Dealers where the inside work of restoring "Democracy" goes on. He says he never heard of as much jealousy, charges of double-dealing among braintrusts in the interest of certain lines of big business, mad men because Hugh Johnson, the original NRA sire had been kicked into the street before he had time to enjoy his boosted salary of $15,000, that his successor is Biehberg, a labor union attorney, who has controlling power of the President's three point setup of NRA, how slim a chance the consumer or the ordinary business man has of being heard on any just complaint he may have. Life is not pictured as a bed of roses in the Roosevelt administration, but the fellow that complains is dropped from the payroll without warning. This newspaper man tells of being in a group when a braintrustor complained as to how consumers were being robbed under the NRA. Last year this braintrustor went down into Virginia in the section noted for these famous Virginia cured smoked hams. He purchased six hams a year ago at 19c a pound and a number of his associates found pleasure as being his guests to a baked ham dinner. A few weeks ago he went after more hams but the price was 43c a pound and his protest was answered by the packer that NRA had forced the price up to help restore prosperity—and the braintrustor's roar is still echoing.

A Greene county farmer recently received a letter from a former resident who has for some years been located in Kansas. In the letter it is stated that Kansas has no use for the AAA corn-hog program and that a big vote was rolled up against it yet the Roosevelt administration is to force the program on the farmers of that state whether they want it or not, and that their products must stand a processing tax, that is taken off the farmer when he sells his hogs, to pay the bonus to farmers in other states.

Kansas was hard hit by the drought, in fact the letter says there will not be a bushel of corn to the acre in some places. He lays bare the plan of the government in granting relief to farmers with no crops when he says "Kansas farmers must sign a contract that they will abide by all FUTURE regulations issued by the 'Agriculture Department' before drought relief is granted. The comment continued: 'As for Socialism, European country has ever forced stricter rules on farmers other than in Russia and the American farmer is not to be permitted to control that which he owns.' The letter closed: 'I hope the farmers in my native home state will join Kansas in turning down the New Deal, which is not new for it has been in force in Russia for fifteen years.'

R. A. Murdock is one of the Democratic farmers who is anything but joyful over the Roosevelt program and especially the AAA corn and hog plan. He points out that even though the vote was favorable to continuance of the contract for next year it was close but the total vote cast was only a fraction of the signers. He admits farmers have had some benefit this year but fears reaction once the plan is terminated. He has no use for farm regimentation under any administration and each farmer should manage his own business or quit. While some benefits are on the surface for the farmer they are only temporary for everything he must purchase soon sets up the benefit. He can see nothing hopeful of the Roosevelt recovery plan other than higher taxes in the future to pay the cost of the experiment. On state issues he speaks in commendable terms and his protest was answered by the packer that NRA had forced the price up to help restore prosperity—and the braintrustor's roar is still echoing.

The best appraisal of confidence in business recovery can be made following a speech by President Roosevelt. There is some tendency to follow his speeches of late with interest but before he gets them into play the braintrusts evidently place a veto and things never materialize as expected. Wednesday night the President addressed the American Bankers Association meeting in Washington. Thursday the stock market took a little tumble. Government bonds fell off. Wheat dropped two cents and corn one cent.

Wanted—We buy and sell new and used cars. Belden & Co., Steele Bldg. Xenia, O.

The Kensington Club was entertained Thursday evening in the I. O. O. F. hall at a covered dish dinner. Following the dinner the guests were treated to a moving picture hunting trip in Alaska by Dr. Uler of Springfield. Prof. Reed rendered two vocal solos, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Reed.

Aspire and Elevate
Did you ever hear of a man who had striven all his life faithfully and sincerely toward an object and in no measure obtained it? If a man constantly aspires, he is not elevated? Did ever a man try bertram, magnanimity, truth, sincerity, and find that there was no advantage in them—that it was a vain endeavor?—H. D. Thorpe.

Historical Mileposts

Of Ohio

By C. S. Van Tassel

The first steam boat, the "New Orleans" built under direction of Nicholas J. Roosevelt, a great grand-uncle of President Theodore Roosevelt, and for the Ohio Steam Navigation Company, was launched at Pittsburgh, September 27, 1811, and after reaching New Orleans, entered into trade between that place and Natchez and never returned to the Ohio. It was the dawn of a new era in commerce. Besides the Ohio, boats under steam began to ply up and down the Muskingum, the Scioto, and the Great Miami. And later, the Maumee, not to mention the Great Lakes.

Under legislative act, at the first legislative session at Zanesville which closed January 20, 1811, in effect, every able bodied man in Ohio was placed on the list for service and organized the State into five divisions. To encourage enlistment, every man was entitled to twelve dollars per month besides the regular government allowance.

The first provision for whipping women was passed at this session. Quoting from Galbreath's History of Ohio, during the summer and autumn of 1810, moving wagons to the number of 418, passed through Lancaster.

The Chillicothe Republican of the same year said: "The rapid settlement of Ohio since its adoption into the Union is without a parallel unequalled in the annals of history. The emigration to this State the present year consists already of no less than fifteen hundred families who have principally settled on the waters of the Scioto, Mad River and Great Miami. . . . We confidently believe there is no country which holds forth so many great and important advantages to the agriculturist, mechanic, and stock holder as this part of the Union."

Signed—Mrs. Olla Whittington, Supervisor Greene Co. Em. Schools.

Mrs. J. O. Stewart, who has been spending several months with Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Vance in Winter Garden, Florida, is expected home in a few days.

The trial of Harold Cyphers set for Wednesday in Common Pleas Court had to be postponed owing to the illness of Prosecutor Marcus McCallister.

the superintendent's office to patrons of the school. "We are sorry to report that we have a case of Infantile Paralysis in the school district. We do not anticipate any further developments or spread of the disease among the school children, but we do feel that it is best to exercise all possible precautions. Therefore, we are requesting all parents to observe their children carefully each morning before coming to school. If, for any reason, your child is not feeling well, please withhold him or her from school for at least one day or longer, if necessary. All pupils who are out of school, as a result of this request, will not be counted absent."

The Cedar Review

The first issue of the new high school paper, The Cedar Review, was very well received last Friday. Over one hundred yearly subscriptions have been obtained and several single copies were sold.

During the last week of the championship play, Cedarville was defeated twice by Bryan. As a result of these victories Bryan won the trophy and the title of County Soft Ball Champions.

The first game was played at Bryan last Wednesday, October 17, the local team being defeated 6-5.

The third and deciding game was played at Cox Field, Xenia on Friday. Bryan again won—this time by a score of 8-6.
